

Real Estate Investment Council, Inc
Tampa Bay

The Real Estate Investment Council (“REIC”) is an organization of Tampa Bay professionals that share a passion for commercial real estate.

www.reictampabay.org

About REIC

The REIC was formed in 1983 as the Tampa Bay Investment Council. We incorporated in 1984 as a not-for-profit corporation, and changed our name to the Real Estate Investment Council, Inc. in 1987.

Our purposes are to (a) inform our members of the latest business and financial news in the real estate market; (b) create a forum for the exchange of ideas; and (c) provide a setting for members to develop new business contacts.

Membership

$450/year for corporate (up to 4 members);
$175/year for individual
$75/year for Young Professionals (35 and under)

Some of our recent past programs include:

- The Future of Commercial Real Estate – PropTech
- Race and Real Estate: Creating a Shared Vision for Equitable Places In Tampa Bay
- Panel – Tampa Condos: Here Comes the Boom! (and along came Covid!)
- The Economy in 2020: Ryan Severino, JLL
- City of Tampa’s Economic Development Outlook
- Bits and Blocks
- Why Invest in Tampa Bay CRE
- Hank Fishkind, Fishkind & Associates
- Mayor Jane Castor and Mayor Bob Buckhorn

For More Information, contact:

Sherry Smith
Association Manager
(813) 205-2138

sherrysmith@reictampabay.org